Final Examinations

The month of April at school is a month most of the children look forward too. That is not because of the final examination, but rather because of the summer vacation that follows the examination!

The children's approach to exams is not with fear or apprehension. That does not mean that they look forward eagerly to the examination. Rather it seems to be that the students have learnt to take one day at a time and do what it requires to complete that day. Since they have done what they had to do through the year, exams are not that hard to face.

Results of the Annual Examination:

Overall, the students did very well. They had worked hard through out the academic year and stood the test well. They left for the holidays light-hearted and ready to enjoy it to the full.

Summer Camp 2008

Though the school was closed for vacations in May, a summer camp was organised for the students. Various volunteers came and taught the children different crafts and dances, general knowledge and drawing. They told the children many stories that fascinated the children. They also played many outdoors and indoor games with them. The children were happy and excited to have people spend time with them to encourage and build them up. The 45 students who attended had a great time and utilized their holidays profitably.

Donation by Asian Foundation for Philanthropy

In 2007, the Asian Foundation for Philanthropy (AFP) had issued a grant to HOPE foundation to support 43 students by meeting all their educational needs. The grant was utilized in this academic year of 2008-2009. This has eased the financial strain of many parents as they find it very hard to continue to educate their children with their extremely limited income. HOPE foundation and the parents are very grateful to AFP and their partner donors who have made this possible. The children were also very happy to receive their new clothes and they were proudly showing them off in school.
